NORTH OMAHA TRAIL DESIGN

We are working with Stable Gray to develop a brand identity for the North Omaha Trail and we want your input! Take the survey and let us know which concept design you like and why. Your comments will inform the final design. bit.ly/NorthOTrailLogo

Reggie LeFlore returned to Omaha to fix up his mural "The Ancestor, The Identity, and The Seed" at the corner of 24th & Ohio. Spark is renovating the apartments for artists, creatives, and cultural entrepreneurs to be made available this year.

SEEDS FOR ALL

The 8th Annual Seed Share was hosted at Fabric Lab in partnership with OPL, Big Muddy Urban Farm, Black Chick Farm, Blazing Star Seed Co-Op, Omaha Sunflower Co-Op, Free Farm Syndicate, The Union for Contemporary Art. Music performance by Dex Arbor.

Nick Kiser asked for community input for his Masters capstone project in Urban Studies from UNO. The project focuses on opportunities and challenges to redevelopment along the 24th street corridor between 24th and Ohio and Lake. Areas included look, safety, culture, and identity to inform future plans and projects.

North Omaha is for $ale?

NOT FOR $ALE

Willie Hamilton and Cheryl Weston hosted their first community investment meeting and interest is growing. "There's a lot of good people, contractors, entrepreneurs in North Omaha and just need the opportunity or the shot to say something, voice their opinion or make something happen."

RESPECT ELDERS

Ernie Chambers joined Preston Love Jr. for a town hall discussing his tenure as a senator and plans for the creation of a Chambers Museum led by his daughter. Senator Chambers also did 30 pushups showing at 83, he's still got it.

PEOPLE'S DESIGN

Dawaune Lamont Hayes hosted Design Assembly for residents to come together to discuss the proposed demolition of the Downtown Public Library, Omaha's destruction history, and what they would like to see instead. Follow @dawaune.one for regular updates.

PLANT MEDICINE

Azanya Brown led community members through herbalism essentials and how to prepare herbs through tea, balms, and more for Twin Rivers Apothecary and Spring Equinox Medicine Making.

ART WALK

May 6 at 3:30 you are invited to visit Fabric Lab, Culxr House, Great Plains Black History Museum, and The Union for Contemporary Art for a tour of local art. The walk will conclude at The Union for viewing of work completed by Seniors from Omaha North High School.
